Profile

Raffaella Kihrer has worked in EU adult education and lifelong learning since 2013. As Policy Officer at the European Association for the Education of Adults (EAEA), she is promoting the values of adult education and learning through advocacy and information work at various political levels. While working on many dimensions of adult education and learning, from employment-related topics to the wider benefits of lifelong learning, her focus and main interest is on citizenship education, development, migration, as well as financial aspects of adult education and learning. She holds an M.A. in International Development Studies from the University of Vienna, Austria, and is a trained adult educator for German as a Foreign and Second Language.
